Updated Sunshade Landing Page

American Structures & Design is always innovating and assessing the market, and one example of this is the sunshade re-design. Used on commercial construction projects, the new sunshade design offers six combinations of infill and trim types, along with projection spans up to 16', providing designers with numerous design alternatives.

SUNSHADES OVERVIEW

Aluminum Sunshade lowers from ASD serve both aesthetic and practical purposes, making them a valuable addition to commercial buildings. Sunshades are designed to block direct sunshine during the cooling season, while allowing sunlight during the winter. Offering six combinations of infill and trim types, along with projection spans up to 16', ASD sunshades add architectural focal points, enhancing the overall visual appeal of the structure.

Note from AS&D CEO Mike Hagen

All of us at AS&D would like to thank you, our customers, for a great 2023. Because of your partnership, we've continued to grow and invest in our facilities in Sumner, WA and Portland, OR.

Our focus has always been to continuously improve by bringing you better products and faster service at competitive prices. We are pushing ourselves to innovate and are working hard on bringing new products to the market for 2024. Over the next few months, we'll be rolling out new glass railing systems, patio cover products, sunshade systems, and balcony upgrades. Additionally, we are hard at work bringing a state-of-the-art automated powder coating system online that will enable us to produce world-class finishes for our products and parallel industries.

2024 is looking to be a great year and we look forward to working for you and helping you grow your business. Our team is eager to assist with your residential and commercial projects, so feel free to call or email at any time.

We wish each of you a wonderful holiday season and a happy New Year.

Best regards,

Mike Hagen
